The Honorable Richard Blumenthal
706 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

The Honorable Ted Cruz
127A Russell Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Chairman Blumenthal, Ranking Member Cruz, and distinguished Members of the Subcommittee:

As a network of medical providers committed to ensuring our patients have access to comprehensive reproductive health care, including abortion care, we write to express our full support for the Women’s Health Protection Act (WHPA). WHPA would create a statutory right for health care providers to provide abortion care, and a corresponding right for their patients to receive that care. Whether our patients are ready to build or create their families, already parenting, or have decided not to continue a pregnancy, all of them share something in common – they are making thoughtful, sometimes complex, decisions about their health and well-being. Each of them deserves access to high quality health care, including abortion care, regardless of who they are and where they live. We urge the Senate Judiciary Committee to send WHPA to the floor for a vote.

Equal access to abortion care is essential for the health, wellbeing, economic security, and dignity of our patients. WHPA is a critical step to eliminating existing disparities in access to abortion. Abortion is a right, protected by the U.S. Constitution and repeatedly affirmed by the Supreme Court – most recently in 2020 – that the Constitution’s guarantees of privacy and liberty protect a person’s right to end a pregnancy. Yet, we know that legality has never meant that abortion care is accessible. Today in large parts of the country, abortion is out of reach for many members of our communities. Lack of insurance coverage for this essential care, a shortage of abortion providers, and hundreds of medically unjustified state restrictions have made this care nearly impossible to obtain, particularly for those already experiencing significant barriers to essential health care.

As providers we see first-hand the harm restrictions on abortion care cause our patients. Denial of abortion care can have serious long-lasting consequences for a person’s health and well-being. For example, women who were denied an abortion are more likely to experience high blood pressure and other serious medical conditions during the end of pregnancy; more likely to remain in relationships where interpersonal violence is present; and more likely to experience poverty.

Abortion is healthcare and it should not be singled out for exclusion or have additional administrative or financial burdens placed upon it. The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG), along with other medical societies, identifies abortion as an essential health care service that requires timely access to care. ACOG also recommends the repeal of legislation that imposes barriers to access and interferes with the patient-provider relationship, including abortion bans, mandatory waiting periods, biased counseling, medically unnecessary ultrasounds, and unjustified facility and staffing requirements.

Abortion is extremely safe and arbitrary restrictions on abortion care do not make it any safer. In 2018, the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine (NAEM) published a comprehensive study affirming the safety record of abortion and pointed out that the biggest threat to patient safety is the litany of medically unnecessary regulations that raise costs and delay procedures, ultimately putting patients' health at risk.

Congress can and must act to protect abortion access and put an end to arbitrary and medically unnecessary barriers on this essential health care. We commend the Senate Judiciary Committee's Constitution Subcommittee for holding a hearing on this important legislation, and we urge you to send WHPA to the Senate floor for a vote.

Sincerely,
